

sukuun

Yalla let's recap...

- We know what faHa, Damma, and kasra indicate.
- We know what ا و & ي indicate.

Now let's look at a word.

كَيْت

Who can read this word?

Now let's look at a word.

تَكْوِين

So, what's going on with the ث?

Silence is what's going on.

- sukuun means “silence,” and it indicates a consonant that is not followed by a vowel.
- In fully voweled texts, the sukuun marks this absence.
- After a medial sukuun, we begin a new syllable, so a medial sukuun must be followed by a consonant.
